

MASSIMO MARTELLA

ACTOR - MUSIC ARTIST - WRITER - VOICEOVER ARTIST

People and animals have always fascinated me, behaviourally and instinctively. I believe there is much to be learned and applied to the craft with a greater understanding of these two elements. Born in the steel city of Sheffield with Italian origins, I spent most of my formative years as a singer-songwriter in bands. I fell into the world of acting and soon made my theatre debut. Screen acting shortly followed, which gave me a thirst to understand more about the craft. I love nature but also the hustle of a major city, 'beautiful chaos' as I like to call it. London provides a perfect antidote that allows me to appreciate both worlds.
